Short synopsis

Long synopsis

GLAMOUR follows the trials and tribulations of a Hungarian-Jewish family during nearly a century of Hungarian history, from World War I through the Nazi and Communist regimes. The dreams and struggles of three generations of a Jewish family in Hungary are depicted in this award-winning drama, which has been frequently and favorably compared to fellow Hungarian filmmaker Istvan Szabo's SUNSHINE. Against a backdrop of major events of the twentieth century, director Frigyes Gödrös weaves together humor and tragedy with realism and fantasy as the characters survive war, Nazi tyranny, communism, and economic hardship. Five years in the making, GLAMOUR is a remarkable historic epic that nonetheless thrives on the intimacy of personal relationships and family drama.
