Persona

Tagline

Two women so different and yet so alike

Short synopsis

A nurse is put in charge of a mute actress and finds that their personae are melding together.

Long synopsis

By the midsixties, Ingmar Bergman had already conjured up many of cinema's most unforgettable images. But with the radical Persona, this supreme artist managed to attain new levels of visual poetry. In the first of a series of legendary performances directed by Bergman, Liv Ullmann plays a stage actor who has inexplicably gone mute, an equally mesmerising Bibi Andersson is the garrulous young nurse caring for her in a remote island cottage. While isolated together there, the women perform a mysterious spiritual and emotional transference that would prove to be one of cinema's most influential creations. Acted with astonishing nuance and shot in stark contrast and soft light by the great Sven Nykvist, Persona is a penetrating, dreamlike work of profound psychological depth.
