

Film title

Haute Cuisine

Tagline

Crème de la Crème in the Elysee Palace

Short synopsis

The story of Danièle Delpeuch and how she was appointed as the private chef for François Mitterrand.

Long synopsis

Hortense Laborie, a renowned chef from Perigord, is astonished when the President of the Republic appoints her his personal cook, responsible for creating all his meals at the Elysée Palace. Despite jealous resentment from the other kitchen staff, Hortense quickly establishes herself, thanks to her indomitable spirit. The authenticity of her cooking soon seduces the President, but the corridors of power are littered with traps... Based on the extraordinary true story of President François Mitterrand's private cook.

Technical information and credits

Original title: Les saveurs du Palais
English title: Haute Cuisine
Year: 2012
Country: France
Language: fr, en
Subtitles: cz
Running time: 91 min
Dostupnost: 12

Genre: Biography, Comedy
Directed by: Christian Vincent
Written by: Christian Vincent
Edited by: Etienne Comar, Christian Vincent
Cinematography: Monica Coleman
Sound by: Gabriel Yared

Awards

César - Nominee | Best Actress - 2013
Lumiere Awards - Nominee | Best Actress -

Actors

Arthur Dupont, Catherine Frot, Hippolyte Girardot,
Jean d'Ormesson