

Film title

Sex, Drugs & Taxation

Tagline

"Two eccentric individuals changed 'Old School' manners of Danish society"

Short synopsis

Long synopsis

Sex, Drugs & Taxation deals with the spectacular historical friendship between two of the most notorious and provocative figures of modern Danish history: the radical right-wing lawyer-turned-politician, Mogens Glistrup, and the "travel king", millionaire, womanizer and public provocateur, Simon Spies. Story inspired by true events describes still unknown facts – how these two infamous Danish icons became what they did and how they used each other as support as well as opponents in their respective life missions. They show us how life can be lived to the fullest, how to battle for ideas and for new vision of society. Half of Denmark fell in love with them while the other half hated them. They were like nothing the country had ever seen before.

Technical information and credits

Original title: Spies & Glistrup
English title: Sex, Drugs & Taxation
Year: 2013
Country: Denmark
Language: da
Subtitles: cz
Running time: 110 min
Dostupnost: 15

Genre: Biography, Drama
Directed by: Christoffer Boe
Written by: Christoffer Boe
Edited by: Christoffer Boe, Simon Pasternak
Cinematography: Peter Brandt
Sound by: Jonas Struck

15

Awards

Actors

Jacob Jorgensen, Jesper Christensen, Nicolas Bro, Pilou Asbak