

Film title

Tarzan and the Golden Lion

Tagline

Collosal story from the jungle

Short synopsis

After a search for a legendary city of diamonds, Tarzan races with his pet lion Jad-bal-ja to save Hawks from being sacrificed to a lion-god.

Long synopsis

Lord Greystoke, known as Tarzan to the natives of Africa among whom he lived, expects his wife and her niece with the young overseer of his estate. A renegade White meets the travellers and plans to attack them. But the timely arrival of the hero with his native army rescues them. A stranger in rags comes to the hero and informs him that he had escaped from the diamond city of a race of people little known. He tells the hero of a fabulous wealth in diamonds hidden within the Diamond palace of this tribe. The villain overhears him and during the hero's absence he abducts him and the young heroine. When the hero returns and hears of the abduction he takes his faithful lion along and rushes to their rescue, instructing his lieutenants to follow him with his army of natives. Eventually he reaches the city of diamonds in time to rescue the heroine from being offered as a sacrifice to a lion, which the natives worshipped as their God.

Technical information and credits

Original title: Tarzan and the Golden Lion
English title: Tarzan and the Golden Lion
Year: 1927
Country: USA
Running time: 57 min
Dostupnost:

Genre: Action, Adventurous
Directed by: J. P. McGowan
Written by: Edgar Rice Burroughs, William E. Wing
Edited by:
Cinematography: Joseph Walker
Sound by: James C. Bradford

Awards

Actors

James Pierce, Edna Murphy, Frederick Peters, Harold Goodwin, Dorothy Dunbar

Films partners

